

Updated May 2021

The purpose of this criteria is to enable athletes of the appropriate level to compete in the professional/elite fields of Ironman, Ironman 70.3, Challenge and other elite long distance triathlon events.

British Triathlon (BT) does not currently have an elite licence system in place, therefore a BT-signed letter verifying an athlete's professional/elite status will be provided to athletes who are successful in achieving the criteria detailed below. Athletes can send this letter on to the race organisers when entering a race in the professional/elite field. If athletes are found to be entering Ironman, Ironman 70.3 or Challenge races as a professional without following the process detailed below then they may be ineligible to receive this letter for the following 12 months.

This system does not relate to long/middle distance ITU or ETU events, the selection policies for which can be found on the BT website HERE.

To apply, please complete the relevant application form using this policy as reference:
